WARD HEADS ELKS OF STATE

Protest Removal of State Medical School To Richmond.

REUNION IS HELD

Rev. Edgar Carpenter, of This City, Re-elected State Chaplain—Meet Next Year In Bedford.

Charlottesville, Va., Aug. 11.—Resolutions vigorously protesting against the removal of the consolidated State Medical School to Richmond were passed by the Virginia State Reunion Association of the B. P. O. Elks, at its closing business meeting here this morning.

The resolutions were introduced by Fred W. Harper, of Lynchburg, former exalted ruler of the national delegates representing some 10,000 members of their order and citizens of the Commonwealth without a dissenting vote.

During the day a number of the delegates paid a visit to the university and were shown around the campus and through the hospital.

Base Hospital No. 41, organized and recruited at the University of Virginia at the beginning of the war, was equipped and financed by the Elks. The unit made a splendid record by its services in France.

"Whereas the Virginia State Reunion Association of the B. P. O. Elks comprises the subordinate lodges of the Order of Elks in State and represents a membership of nearly 10,000 loyal and patriotic Americans and citizens of Virginia, and

"Whereas the association and its membership in Virginia are not only interested in all that concerns the welfare of the State and its institutions, but feel a peculiar interest in the medical school of the University of Virginia, whose splendid Base Hospital Unit, No. 41, which made such a magnificent record in the world war, was equipped and financed by the Order of Elks, and

"Whereas in the opinion of the association it would be most unwise to disrupt the unity of the university organization by removing any of its schools from the seat of the university itself.

"Now, therefore, be it resolved by the Virginia State Reunion Association of the B. P. O. Elks, in annual conventino assembled:

Hypnotist Finds Slain Man's Body.

Vienna, Aug. 11.—Tourists and vacationists in Salzkammergut, West Austria, have been greatly alarmed by the mysterious disappearance of a number of persons making mountain climbing excursions among the snow covered peaks. In the last few weeks half a dozen visitors have vanished, leaving no trace of what happened to them, but they presumably were victims of robber bands thought to be operating in the mountains.

Huge searching parties scoured the mountains and valleys in vain. Three members of one relief expedition were lost for 8 days, which they spent in a barren gorge without food before they finally were rescued. Police dogs were sent from Vienna to Aussee, the the center of the district, to help in the search, but some of them also were lost and the others failed to find a trace of the person who had vanished in the mountains.

AMERICANS LEAVE RUSSIA

Soviet Representative Offers Guarantee To U. S. Official.

SHEDS PRISON GARB

Capt. Kilpatrick Shows Greatest Effects of Imprisonment—Good Feeling of Conference.

Riga, Latvia, Aug. 11.—A guarantee that all Americans remaining in Russia will be given an opportunity to leave that country if they desired was offered today by Maxim Litnivoff, Soviet representative, at a conference held yesterday afternoon with Walter L. Brown, European director of the American Relief Administration, over the question of American relief for famine-stricken Russia.

This offer was made after the American representative had inquired what the Soviet Government's intentions were regarding the freeing of the Americans in Russia, other than six men of American nationality who have just been released from Soviet confinement and reached Reval, Esthonia, today.

It was understood that Director Brown had made it a condition of opening the negotiations for relief that all Americans in Russia be given a chance to leave that country.

The question of the acceptance of the guarantee rests with Herbert Hoover, Secretary of Commerce and head of the American Relief Administration, who is expected to act in concurrence with the American State Department.

Mr. Brown, in informing Litvinoff that the United States was ready to go ahead with relief measures if all Americans in Russia were released, added:

"Of course, we would not tie up the conference for several months while some lone American in Siberia was deciding whether or not he wanted to go home.

Mr. Brown said there was sufficient food, probably enough to feed 1,000,000 children for one month, now in the American Relief Association headquarters in Danzig and Hamburg and ships ready to load it, and that it could be laid down in Petrograd, Riga or Reval within a fortnight. He added that the interior transport situation was so complicated, however, that he was unable to say when the food could reach the actual starving people.

The conference was mraked by good feeling, though Mr. Brown made it extremely plain to Litvinoff that Mr. Hoover's note concerning the release of Americans in Russia meant those outside as well as those inside prison. Litvinoff guaranteed that any American desiring to do so could leave Russia.

After the conference M. Florinsky, who was Russian Vice Consul in New York in the days of the Empire, but who is now Livinoff's secretary, expressed the opinion that the entire matter of relief would be successfully settled on Friday, the date of the next conference.

WASHINGTON DAY BY DAY

(From Our Special Correspondent.)

Washington, Aug. 11.—The Gazette correspondent learned on the highest authority today that decision of the Department of Justice on the necessity of a formal proclamation by the President of a state of peace with Germany is being held up because of the desire of Secretary of State Hughes to accomplish by a formal treaty with Germany everything that could be done by a proclamation of peace.

Thirty-five days have now elapsed since the Department of Justice was asked by the President whether a peace proclamation was necessary. It is forty days since the President signed the peace resolution of Congress and 42 days since the resolution was enacted.

But when Attorney General Daugherty was ready to make his report to the White House, he was notified of the negotiations which had been started by the Secretary of State for an entirely new treaty with Germany and of the opinion of Secretary Hughes that a peace proclamation would be entirely superfluous if the treaty could be consummated. For this reason announcement of the Attorney General's decision is being held up, although it has been ready for the President for some days.

America to Aid Russia.

Following the official announcement that American prisoners in Soviet jails in Russia and others forcibly detained in Russian territory have been released, America is to come to the immediate relief of the 12,000,000 Russians reported to be starving to death. Secretary of Commerce Hoover, who is head of the American relief work in stricken countries has conferred with President Harding about the matter and decision has been reached by this government to dispatch food and clothing into the famine areas at the earliest possible moment. Large quantities of food and clothing have been assembled at Petrograd and other accessible points and just as the necessary transportation facilities can be arranged, the United States will take direct supervision over the relief work in Russia. No official of the Soviet government in Russia will have anything to do with this aid which is to be sent by this coutry as American officials are doubtful whether those really in need of assistance would be taken care of if Russian agents had anything to do with the distribution of food and clothing.

Seeks to Save Party.

President Harding is trying to save the Republican party from annihilation at the next election. No sooner had he arrived at the White House from his vacation in New England than he called into conference Republican leaders of both Senate and House and notified them that they would have to abandon their plans for tax revision if they expected to receive the approval of the voters of the country. As a consequence, the proposed taxes on bank checks, automobiles and increased postage n first class mail matter, recommended by the Republican Secretary of the Treasury, have been abandoned, and it will be the aim of the Ways and Means Committee to effect cuts of approximately $600,000,000 in the nation's tax bill without putting on any new taxes upon the shoulders of the American people. How all this is going to work out is a conundrum which the administration leaders will have to work out and many of them will lose many a good night's sleep in their attempts to fathom the mystery.

Decline in Whisky Drinking.

Whiskey drinking in the United States is on the decline. At least, figures made public by the Bureau of Internal Revenue say so.

According to statistics made public at the Treasury Department today, from January 1, 1921 to June 30, but 1,487,306 gallons of whiskey were withdrawn from bonded warehouses. All this is supposed to be used for medicinal purposes only. For the corresponding period in 1920, there were 5,170,598 gallons taken out of the government storehouses, or a decrease of 3,683,292 gallons in 1921 as compared with 1920.

The stamp sales for non-beverage spirits from January 1 to June 30, 1921, aggregated $27,916,480, as compared with $42,228,999 during the corresponding period of 1920.

Congress Still at Work

It begins to look now as if Congress will get away from Washington for a month at least without taking action upon the railroad legislatin which provides that the War Finance Corporation shall advance to the carriers $500,000,000 to tide them over their present financial stringency and assist them in meeting current bills for coal, equipment, etc. Senator La Follette, Republican, of Wisconsin, has threatened to inject as interminable fillibuster against the proposed railroad legislation if it is brought onto the Senate floor, and the leaders have about reached the conclusion to let this important matter go over for the time being and take a months' rest.

THOSE FIGURES

Some days ago the Washington - Virginia Railway published an advertisement in the Gazette, in which they set up an array of figures in support of their various pleas and contentions. At the time we promised an investigation and analysis of the statistics so presented.

We find, upon further examination, that the figures need not analysis so much as fumigation! We would prefer to see the amount placed under the head of "Wages paid in Alexandria," itemized. We cannot believe that the Railway Company disburses the yearly sum of $158,887.80 for wages in the city of Alexandria. We hope we are mistaken. We should rejoice if it were true. It is a simple matter to set this right before the public, and we hope the Company will do so for its own sake. This brings up another matter of kindred importance. Why cannot the Washington-Virginia Railway Company establish its offices in Alexandria? This would, indeed, go far to entitle it to the claim of being a "local enterprise and asset." As it is now, perhaps the only local feature is that of the payment by our own people of higher fares into the treasury of the Company, which we imagine, is located in Philadelphia. The stockholders, bond holders, note holders, and other owners of the corpus of the property and its evidences of debt, certainly do not reside in this city.

Another item that should be rendered in detail, we believe, is the annual amount spent for merchandise in the city of Alexandria. Did the sum of $12,559.08 find its way into the general channels of trade—or did it go to one or two concerns, and if so, how much to each? We do not ask names, but we would like to know for what class of merchandise this sum was spent, and among how many of our merchants.

We should rejoice, as we have said, to have the Railway Company make out its case. We have absolutely no prejudice or feeling in the matter. The Gazette is the organ of the people of Alexandria and its suburbs, and as such, has its duties to perform, and which it will perform, without fear or favor.

We want to see the Washington - Virginia Railway Company prosper. We wish it a plenary measure of success. But we do not wish this at the expense of the citizens of Alexandria. We do not believe that they should make good the egregious blunders of the railway management in the past, nor bear the brunt of over-capitalization, riotous excess of bonded issue, and the like. The sins of the fathers should be visited on their proper progeny and not on an innocent public.

We tender our columns gladly to the Company for any and all enlightenment it can furnish. We should be most agreeably surprised to find that $158,887.80 were paid each year to citizens and residents of Alexandria; and to find that $12,559.08 were spread generally among our merchants. We do not in any sense dispute these figures. We hope the Company's statements are correct.

WASHINGTON
Day by Day

Col. Charles R. Forbes, the director of the new Veteran's Bureau, which will have direct supervision over all soldier relief work heretofore assigned to other governmental agencies, is going to find himself an exceedingly busy man for the next few months. He will be in personal charge of the government's war risk bureau, its insurance business, vocational educational work besides the general hospitalization plans whereby disabled veterans of the World War are to be given treatment at institutions being provided by the government.

But Col. Forbes is equipped in every way to shoulder the additional responsibilities placed upon him by the President. He is a World War veteran himself, and participated in most of the important engagements on the battlefield of France. As a youth he shipped on a square-rigger to Australia and knows the hardships encountered by the average man. With it all, however, he is as gentle as a child and the cases for aid that daily come to his attention appeal to his human side more deeply than if his career had been a different one. Col. Forbes has already gone to work to master the problems which will confront him in administering the welfare work among our ex-service men.

Ward Heads Elks of State.

"That it opposes most vigorously the proposal to remove the university medical school to Richmond or to any other city.

"That such a dismemberment of the university would, in the opinion of this association, be disastrous to the Institution and would impair its usefulness and prestige to a degree beyond calculation.

"That the members of the Order of Elks in Virginia are urged in all appropriate ways to endeavor to prevent the proposed removal of the university medical school, as an act comparable with the act of the order in equipping and financing its Base Hospital Unit, No. 41, and as a definite service to the university and the State of Virginia."

The twelf th annual meeting of the association closed this afternoon with a barbecue at "Wilton," the country home of J. Anderson Chisholm, a former president of the association.

Reports submitted at the closing business session of the organization showed remarkable growth during the past three years, the membership having nearly doubled.

How They Have Been Endured and How Overcome Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Experience of a Providence Woman

Providence, R. I.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for a female trouble and backache. It began just after my baby was born, and I did the best I could about getting my work done, but I had awful bearing-down pains so I could not stand on my feet. I read in the papers about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and the good it was doing other women, and I have got dandy results from it and will always recommend it. You can use these facts as a testimonial if you wish."—Mrs. HERBERT L. CASSEN, 18 Meni Court, Providence, R. I.

Ohio woman for three years could hardly keep about and do her housework she was so ill. Made well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound:

Fayette, O.—"For about three years I was very nervous and had backache, sideache, dragging-down pains, could not sleep at night, and had no appetite. At times I could hardly do my housework. I got medicine from the doctor but it did not help me. I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised in a newspaper and took it with good results, and am now able to do my housework. I recommend your medicine to my friends and you may publish my testimonial."—Mrs. CHESTER A. BALL, R. 15, Fayette, Ohio.

An Illinois woman relates her experience:

Bloomington, Ill.—"I was never very strong and female trouble kept me so weak I had no interest in my housework. I had such a backache I could not cook a meal or sweep a room without raging with pain. Rubbing my back with alcohol sometimes eased the pain for a few hours, but did not stop it. I heard of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and six bottles of it have made me as strong and healthy as any woman; and I give my thanks to it for my health."—Mrs. J. A. McQUITTY, 610 W. Walnut St., Bloomington, Ill.

The conditions described by Mrs. Cassen, Mrs. Ball, and Mrs. McQuitty will appeal to many women who struggle on with their daily tasks in just such conditions—in fact, it is said that the tragedy in the lives of some women is almost beyond belief. Day in and day out they slave in their homes for their families—and beside the daily routine of housework, often make clothes for themselves and for their children, or work in their gardens, all the while suffering from those awful bearing-down pains, backache, headaches, nervousness, the blues, and troubles which sap the very foundation of life until there comes a time when nature gives out and an operation seems inevitable. If such women would only profit by the experience of these three women, and remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the natural restorative for such conditions it may save them years of suffering and unhappiness.

There is hardly a neighborhood in any town or hamlet in the United States wherein some woman does not reside who has been restored to health by this famous medicine. Therefore ask your neighbor, and you will find in a great many cases that at some time or other she, too, has been benefited by taking it, and will recommend it to you. For more than forty years this old-fashioned root and herb medicine hasbeen restoring suffering women to health and strength.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Ailments Peculiar to Women" will be sent to you free upon request. Write to The Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Massachusetts. This book contains valuable information.

WEDNESDAY, AUG. 11, 1813.

NEWS FROM HAVANA.

Charleston, August 3, 1813.

By the arrival of the sloop "Necessity," from Havana, a Spirited Protest of the Merchants of that city, against the conduct of the New Providence privateers (pirates), and the Vice-Admiralty Court at Nassau, has been received. It inveighs in an animated strain against the numerous captures of Spanish vessels since the American war by British cruisers; instances several cases of high-handed misconduct on the part of their commanders; and declares that for some time past their depredations on the property of Spanish merchants has exceeded the enormities experienced by Spain from "THE INFAMOUS, THE EXECRABLE NAPOLEON!" It was not thought safe for persons from New Providence to walk the streets of Havana after dark, for fear of private assassination; such was the irriation in the public mind against those concerned in privateering.

REPORT CONSUMERS FERTILIZER COMMITTEE

Blacksburg, Aug. 11.—After carefuly considering the situation as expressed by the afternoo conference of fertilizer consumers, representing the Farmers' Union Farm Bureau, Farmers Clubs, Virginia State Horticultural Society, Virginia State Dairymens' Association, Tobacco Growers' Association, Peanut Growers' Association, Cabbage Growers' Exchange, and others, your committee turned its attention to the results of last spring and how they were attained, with the ultimate decision that the greatest hope for relief lay in approaching the manufacturers of fertilizer and impressing upon them the fact that their product cannot be profitably used by Virginia Farmers at present prices. Further, that the farmers organizations of Virginia are ready and are in a position to serve their membership and Virginia Agricultur through co-operation.

With the above in mind your committee recommends:

1. That one purchasing agency be selected through which as great a volume of business be rolled as possible.

2. That after careful consideration of existing agencies, and deeming it unwise to create an additional agency The Producers Co-operative Exchange of Richmond, Va., seems the most feasible organization as a purchasing agent.

3. That upon being approved relative to serving as a purchasing agent the President of the above Exchange advises us that for the good of Virginia agriculture and to further develop co-operative spirit among farmers this service will be rendered without cost.

4. That all payment for fertilizer shall be made by the car lot purchaser direct to the manufacturer or his representative. and all time concessions or credit arrangements shall be between these two parties. Inasmuch as the purchasing agency will be serving without charge, it is distinctly understood and agreed that all expense such as unloading of fertilizer, handling of delivery contracts, tracing shipments, and other things incident to the delivery of fertilizer shall be borne by the purchaser.

5. That all co-operating agencies shall immediately provide means through which bona fide car lot orders will be forwarded to the Producers Co-operative Exchange.

No. 1112 East Cary St., Richmond, Virginia.

giving the following information: tonnage, analysis, date and point of delivery, and manner of settlement on a uniform order blank approved by the purchasing agency and a committee representing the farmers interests to which the purchasing agency shall report and advise with.

6 That the meeting of the afternoon of August 4th, its purposes, actions, and sentiments, be given wide publicity throughout the State through the various concurring organizations th e daily and weekly newspapers, and other available sources of publicity, in order that the support of other fertilizer consumers may be enlisted.

7. That in order to have better relations between the consumers and manufacturers of fertilibzer in the future, your committee recommends that the various farm organizations in Virginia each appoint a representative to serve oh a permanent committee for the purpose of conferring with manufacturing interests and others on fertilizer problems.

8. That all co-operating agencies including the Farmers' Union, Farm Bureau, Farmers' Clubs, and other orgaizations and individual farmers be urged to use every effort to get all the volume of orders possible to the purchasing agency before August 25th

Respectfully submitted,

O. A. Thomas, Chairman, Lynchburg Va.. Business Agent, Va., Farmers' Union.

N. B. Rue, Secretary, Roaoke, Va., Field Representative, Virginia Farm Bureau.

J. B. Quisenberry, Fredericks Hall, Va., District agent, Extension Division.

E. B. Keeley, Richmond, Virginia., Manager, Curles Neck Farm.

S. C. Miller, Bridgewater, Virginia, Rockingham Farmers' Club.

The above report was unanimously adopted without change, and the sentiment of those present was expressed by W. B. Alwood, Greenwood, Va., a large orchardist, when he said that he had been a buyer of fertilizer in car lots for several years and that the plan proposed by the committee was the best throughout proposition on the fertilizer trade that he hal ever heard.

On motion the above committee was continued to advise with the Producers' Co-operative Exchange and to receive the report of all business done.

Much Depends Upon the Bread You Eat.

Not so much on the quantity---as on the QUALITY. Bulk doesn't necessarily mean nutrition. If you were to analyze

CORBY BREAD

---of what it is made; and the manner of the making you'd quickly find the reason for giving it your preference.

Each ingredient has passed the censorship of most critical scientific tests--for purity and for nutritive value.

Each detail of the making and baking carries out this strict adherence to scientitic methods. To that end a machine was patented that insures to the mixing of the doughs the fullest development of the gluten content of the flour---These machines are used in mixing CORBY doughs. And to these features are added unusual quantities of rich milk---that the maximum of health and strength-giving properties may be found in EVERY loaf of CORBY BREAD---EVERY day.

100% Pure, and 100% Nutritious

CORBY BREAD is made right here in Alexandria—and delivered fresh from the ovens to your grocer and delicatessen.

VIRGINIA FARMERS GREATLY DISTURBED OVER FERTILIZER PRICES

Richmond, Aug. 11.—That farmers of Virginia are greatly disturbed over the prices of fertilizer which manufacturers are now asking was evident from the attedance and interest at the meeting of fertilizer consumers held in Blacksburg last week.
There was hardly standing room from those attendig from all parts of the State and taking part in the discussion which lasted from four-thirty to six o'clock.
The meeting was opened with prayer by Rev. Wyrick, after which J. R. Meek, Director, Division of Markets of the State Department of Agriculture, briefly stated, that after making careful investigation of the present condition of the fertilizer trade and the prices of goods that are being offered to the farmers, he had consulted several of the foremost leaders of agriculture in the State and decided that such a meeting should be called. He quoted at length from authentic information which show that raw fertilizer materials are now available at approximately fifty per cent of what they cost one year ago and that the fertilizer trade is in a very unsettled condition, and ur. pay cash for the goods.
W. P. Moore, assistant director of Extension at V. P. I. was unanimously chosen chairman of the meeting, and O. A. Thomas, State Business Agent of the Farmers' Union, gave the list price of fertilizers as being offered by manufacturers which showed it to be approximately what was received last spring. Frank S. Walker, President, Virginia Dairy Association, stated that he had reliable information that manufacturers were making Acid Phosphate carry the overhead charges of the other goods and said that there should be a committee appointed from the farmers organizations to confer with a similar committee from fertilizer manufacturers and argue before a committee of Congress the condition and the abide by the decision rendered.
D. H. Barger, vice-President of the Virginia Farm Bureau, spoke briefly, bringing out the fact that fertilizer than those now prevailing if the rig. lized could be bought at lower prices business methods are used. He also spoke of the unjustness of the present quotations being made o fertilizer.
Representatives fo farmers organizations from Augusta,Loudoun ,Shenandoah, Culpeper, Rockbridge, Orange, Pulaski, Wythe, Smythe, Montgomery, Bedford, Washington, Giels, Grayson, Roanoke, and most of the ther counties that use fertilizer in the fall, were present, and the expression from them was that farmers were not going to use fertilizer to any larger extent than they were compelled since the price is not reduced in proportion to the reduction of farm products. The thought brought out was that the farmer was business man enough not to buy fertilizer unless it will make money for him.
Professor T. B. Hutcheson, Agronomist at Virginia Polytechnic Institute spoke of the value of fertilizer when properly used and urged the farmers to use more of it. He said it was advisable for them to curtail the acreage of crops if they wished to decrease the use of fertilizer.
Dr. McGruder, of the Royster Guano Company, Norfolk, and Mr. Bunch of the Agricultural Supply Corporation, Richmond brough,t ut the fact. that fertilizer manufacturers were heavily in debt and had sold spring goods at reduced prices which amounted to an actual loss. They stated also that the excessive freight rates were largely responsible for the high prices.
ducers' Co-operative Exchange Rich
W. M. Cease President of the Pro mond, reviewed the proceedings o the meeting held in Lynchburg March 4, 1921. and of his activities as an appointed agent to purchase fertilizer for the farmers of Virginia which brought about better conditions in spring trade He admolished farmers to stand up and be men by paying their bills and doing the business like thing, and stated that the manufacturers of fertilizer were human and the same things that appealed to other people appealed to them, and that cash would get goods cheaper.
On motion of J. H. Meek and seconded by N. B. Rue, Field Agent of Virginia Farm Bureau Federation, a committee of five was appointed to work out plans for handling the situtation and to report the next morning.
Mr. Moore appointed the following committee:
O. A. Thomas, Chairman, Lynchburg, Virginia Business Agent, Virginia Farmers' Union.
N. B. Rue, Secretary, Roanoke, Virginia, Field Representative, Virgin Farm Bureau.
J. B. Quisenberry, Fredericks Hall Virginia, District Agent, Extension Division.

The Triangle Sport Club would like to arrange a game with the Tiger A. C. for Sunday at 1 o'clock on the High School grounds. This game will be played with boys that have played with the team all the season. Although we realize the Tigers have no right to claim the championship, we will give them a chance to make good, so what do you say Tigers? Are you yellow or not? If not, let's go.

As usual the Dreadnaughts book nothing but good ones, so Saturday they will engage the Southland A. C., of Washington, on Baggett's field at 4 p. m. Manager Allen has received the following line up from Manager Taylor of the Southlands: P. Spalding, 2b; T. Spalding, 3b; Snow, ss.; R. Taylor, lf.; Mullen, 1b; Litkus, cf.; Hager, rf.; H. Taylor c; Bryant and Ferguson, pitchers. This team is now leading the section man unlimited class, Independent Series in Washington, for the championship of the District.

Paul Bryant who held the Meropolitans to 2 hits Monday will pitch against the D's. He has only recently returned from Henderson, N. C., in the Piedmont League and is undoubtedly one of the best pitchers in this section of the country.

Tell your friends about Saturday's game, and help make the attendance the largest this season at a Saturday game, as this class of teams does not visit here often, and you are sure to see one of the best games of the season. Saturday, August 13, at 4 p. m., on Baggett's field.

Bandits Kill Two In Dash.

The hold up occurred at the entrance to the assembling plant of the company on Union Avenue, in a busy industrial section, shortly before noon. Those killed were Vincent Lucarini, a police lieutenant; Howard L. Gamble, an employe of the Ford Company deputized as a special officer, and Polk A. Carraway, a patrolman.

Carraway and Gamble were shot to death by the bandits when Edward McHenry, the clerk who was returning in an automobile from a bank with the money with the two officers as a guard leaped from the machine after four men, masked and armed with pistols and shotguns, drove alongside his car and demanded the money. McHenry stumbled as he jumped from the car and escaped the volley of shots, while Gamble and Carraway were struck by bullets and fatally wounded. Regaining his feet, McHenry darted in to an entrance of the plant and reached the company's office in safety with the money intact. W. E. Harris, another policeman, was wounded, but not seriously. As McHenry raced into the company's plant the men jumped into their automobile an escaped.

Lieutenant Lucarini was fatally wounded when a posse at Collierville, a suburb, fired on a police car, mistaking it for the automobile in which the bandits were reported en route to that town. Both the bandits' car and the police automobile were of the same make, it was stated, and, according to members of the posse, the latter failed to obey a command to stop. Lucarini was brought to a hospital here, where he died.

Joseph Robilio, Edward L. Heckinger and C. L. Bonds, the latter a policeman, who were riding in the police car, also were wounded. Heckinger was struck in the head by a bullet and is reported in a critical condition. Robilio received the charge from a shotgun on his shoulders and forearm, as well as a scalp wound. None of the others is believed seriously hurt.

Bristol.—Emmett Bates, 18, is dead and Clarence Wells, 19, is held in the Wise, Va., jail in connection with the killing which is said to have followed a quarrel between the two over the sale of moonshine whiskey. Bates' body was found in the center of the road near Norton, Va., by passers-by. He had been shot twice in the stomach.

Motor Efficiency vs. Gasoline Efficiency

Why the Standard Oil Company (New Jersey) Maintains a Great Experimental Department

THERE is a point beyond which the efficiency of a motor car or truck cannot be guaranteed by its manufacturer. Thousand dollar cars have been known to render longer and more satisfactory service than others which were valued at two or three times as much.

Mechanically your "job" was perfect when it came to you from the factory. The best of materials, commensurate with the price of the car, were used in its construction. The car was as nearly ready for efficient service as the manufacturers could make it.

How do you select Motor Fuel?

From this point the responsibility for efficient operation of your motor lies largely with you (who must select and purchase fuel and lubricants) and with the refiners.

Your task is to find a consistently good gasoline, adjust your carburetor to it, and use no other. Our work is to see that this gasoline is constantly up to standard; to make sure that you can get it wherever your business or pleasure takes you in the field served by the Standard Oil Co. (N. J.); to improve it when possible through the efforts of specialists in our Development Department.

Follow Expert Guidance

Our development men are at work seeking still further to improve our products. These experts have devoted their lives to study of the refining business and the relation between the properties of the oils and the service which they render. They deal only in facts. You can't go wrong in following their guidance.
